

BRAZOS VALLEY ART LEAGUE NEWSLETTER

April 2020

April Membership Meeting Canceled

BVAL...Your Virtual Community

Our most valuable asset is the community that we have built. The Brazos Valley Art League is truly a welcoming place for all artists and that's something we want to maintain through these uncertain times.

To this endeavor we have created a virtual community online with our Brazos Valley Art League Facebook Group. This is different than our website or our standard Facebook page. Like BVAL itself, you are invited to become a member... if you haven't already.

Go to <https://www.facebook.com/groups/bvalgroup/> and ask to join. Just like BVAL, you'll be welcomed warmly. Have conversations, share what you've been up to, share tips or ask for advice... just like you would at a gathering at the gallery.

All BVAL in person activities are postponed until further notice to include Wednesdays Painters. We hope to resume creative interaction when it is once again safe to gather.

BVAL Virtual Activities

With the state of the COVID-19 pandemic, many of us are spending more time indoors. You may be thinking about how you can share your art in ways you haven't considered before. We may be unable to meet face-to-face for the next few months, so BVAL is striving to find ways we can remain connected to one another, continue our learning, nurture our creativity, as well as share and exhibit our art.

Create a Portfolio Website: Getting Started with Fine Art America

<https://www.facebook.com/bvalleague/>

April 6th
12:00pm

In order to display and share your art, having an online portfolio has likely never been more important than it is now. Join us for our first Facebook Live event to discover options available for creating an online portfolio with Fine Art America (FAA). Many BVAL members, and more than 100,000 artists utilize FAA to showcase and sell their works. If you are not interested in selling your work, the FAA's free option is a good way to virtually share your art for others to enjoy.

We will walk through creating your account, setting up your profile page, uploading images of your art, pricing and product options, and how to share your portfolio with family and friends.

Thursday Thursday Virtual Art Walk

April 16th
6:30pm

Grab a glass of wine and tune in to our Facebook Page for a tour of selected art from our members. Hear what the artists have to say about the piece, their motivation and methods.

Photographing Your Art Like a Pro!

Upcoming!

Grab a glass of wine and tune in to our Facebook Page for a tour of selected art from our members. Hear what the artists have to say about the piece, their motivation and methods.

Your membership enables BVAL to provide art education and to share exciting, innovative exhibits and events with our local community.

Benefits include:

- Monthly newsletter

Meeting Demos

Date TBD
Meagan Kirschner
Abstract Mixed Media Artist
Royce City, TX
See Meagan's bio here.

Artist's Statement:

I am an artist that uses industrial and recyclable materials to create art work that is considered mixed media. Paints, papers, and metal become expressive parts of the overall project. All of my work is of the abstract genre and becomes fluid as it is conceived. The work focuses on canvas being the base, but I branch out to sculpture pieces as well. I have multiple sclerosis (MS) which can create a challenge physically creating the work. The process of thinking out a project to physically creating allows an outlet for physical, mental, and cognitive therapy in living with MS.

Date TBD
Cynthia Hanks
Pastel Artist

Artist's Statement:

I am constantly amazed with nature and our connection to this planet earth. The perpetual give and take within the circle of life is forever on my mind as I view nature, realizing that a moment is instantaneous, making that moment gone in an instant. Capturing nature and its creatures has always been my focus when creating. I am attracted to color, shape and light. The balance and guidance of these elements specifically leads the eye around a painting like a dance. I find the challenge in creating what nature shows me and am always looking for a great dance!

Live Artist Event at POV Coffee Artist Martha Little

4114 Lake Atlas Dr.#250, Bryan, TX
(next to The Stella Hotel)

Date TBD

Come out and meet the artist Martha Little
Art will be displayed through April 27.

BIOGRAPHY

Several years ago, I woke up one morning, and arbitrarily decided to start drawing and painting. I am completely self-taught. I do not, however, view my lack of formal training as an impediment. In fact, quite the contrary, as I feel my naivety is accompanied by a certain freedom of imagination. A freedom that, perhaps, would not be as accessible if my work was confined to a certain style or technique. My work is comprised of a collection of mixed media pieces (mostly pastels and acrylics). Although similar themes or moods can be felt throughout my collection, each piece is still created as an individual and unique expression- one that is indicative of my current mood as well as one that is reflective of my daily inspirations and challenges.

onexhibit

Faith Leskowitz

@ Downtown Uncorked
January 14 to March 31

Artist's Statement: I started out drawing seven years ago, however over the past three years my main choice in medium has moved onto acrylic painting due to the abstraction, vibrant colors, and speed it offers. I enjoy painting things I find beautiful, or try to add a positive twist on subjects through color. Due to the versatility of acrylics each piece I make is experimentalist in nature as I try out new styles and techniques.

Martha Little

@The Brazos Center
January 14 to March 31

Artist's Statement: Approximately 2 years ago, I woke up one morning, and arbitrarily decided to start drawing and painting. I am completely self-taught. I do not, however, view my lack of formal training as an impediment. In fact, quite the contrary, as I feel my naivety is accompanied by a certain freedom of imagination. ### Carol Henrichs

@Perrine Winery
January 14 to March 31

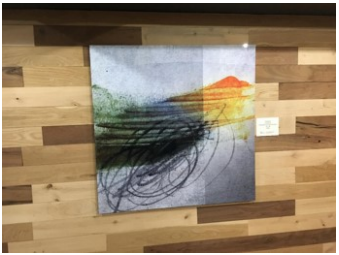

Artist's Statement: I began my serious journey into digital photography in 2005 when I enrolled in my first photography class. While I found I needed to learn how to use the gear, what I discovered is that I absolutely love the post processing I could accomplish using my computer. No surprise really, since my background is in instructional technology. I am now focusing on photography, digital art, and using my teaching/training skills to share what I have learned (and continue to learn) about digital photography.

Inspiring creativity and confidence to spring forward, that is the Brazos Valley Art League!! Just days ago we were privileged to have an awesome demonstration of porcelain painting. If you missed it, let me tell you it was not only a great education on this most unique and somewhat rare art form but it also created wonder and pleasure in the realization that I too could try to do this!! No it is not just painting on cups and plates. We saw beautifully painted tiles framed to add to any gallery wall, simply amazing!! This is just one example of what you miss when you don't attend our monthly meetings.....please join us, I am certain you won't want to miss the next meeting!!
