VAS ART SPOTLIGHT

*FEATURED ARTIST THIS MONTH IS *Helen C. Dewolf

I began my journey as an artist in earnest in high school in art classes and backstage in theatre productions. My final year at the University of Waterloo, Waterloo Ontario, Canada, was split between the Fine Arts and Drama Departments.

*T*apestry weaver and conservator uniting fine arts, archaeology, and fiber creativity seamlessly

After graduation I continued to draw, sculpt in clay and experiment with tapestry weaving. I had a couple of solo shows and joined an artists' cooperative in London, Ontario. Life presented an opportunity for my husband C. Wayne Smith and me to go to Grad School at TAMU. We moved to Bryan, received our degrees and were employed by TAMU in the Anthropology Department, Nautical Archaeology Program. My lab tech position morphed from artifact illustrator to Chief Conservator of the Conservation Research Laboratory. The results of this highly detailed work has been seen in museum displays and publications. As part of the Brazos Spinners & Weavers Guild and INTERSECTIONS Textile Learning Center & Gallery – I have returned to my creative home. Through the Contemporary Handweavers of Texas and the Handweavers Guild of America I have gained a wider audience and accolades for my work (guild awards and acceptance into a nationally travelling exhibit). I am a tapestry weaver, a sculptor of felted works and I am ever stretching my boundaries. As long as I am able to spin, weave, felt, manipulate fibers and textiles, I will continue to do so.

VAS member, Joel Kitchens has published a book

Great news—Joel Kitchens has finished his book! It will be available for purchase this December, but you can preorder now through TAMU Press.

San Antonio and Its Missions. Three Centuries of History, Memory, and Heritage By Joel Daniel Kitchens. This book claims San Antonio's five Spanish Colonial-era missions are "sites of memory," as defined by French historian Pierre Nora. By that definition, the missions are an enduring, and deeply-rooted part of the city's heritage. As both sacred spaces, as well as being some of the top tourist attractions in the state, the missions continue to serve some of the original religious and educational functions that began three centuries ago on what was then a remote site on the frontier. In 2015, the United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization recognized the missions' importance to Texas and beyond by awarding World Heritage Site status to these buildings. By taking a 'deep dive' into the primary sources, this project explores how and why the Spanish built the missions, what happened to the missions after the Spanish colonizers left, and how and why the missions came to weigh so heavily in the American imagination and identity (particularly after the 1836 Battle of the Alamo, and the arrival of the railroad in 1877 which connected San Antonio to the national web of iron and steel), even into the twenty-first century. The primary sources include Spanish Colonial documents, census data, travel narratives, advertisements by railroad companies, tourist guides, and even the buildings themselves.
